

Monoseal[®] for Pharma

Ensure safety and integrity of pharmaceutical and nutraceutical products

Products ranging from prescription medicine to vitamin tablets to protein powders require careful packaging in order to maintain their efficacy and freshness. Exposure to oxygen, moisture, and contaminants can result in product degradation and waste. Monoseal liners from TekniPlex are engineered to protect the integrity of valuable products by providing an airtight, tamper-evident seal.

Features and Benefits:

- Strong induction seal prevents leaks and protects product integrity
- Oxygen barriers seal in freshness
- Compatible with multiple container types including PP, PE, PET, and Glass
- Available both on-reel and as punched parts
- Fast lead times and responsive customer support
- European-based production, backed by global materials science expertise

These one-piece induction heat seal liners are compatible with most container types to deliver critical product protection for the pharmaceutical and nutraceutical industries.
